Ann Yee's Delightful Experiment

Ann Yee invited Joonbug to an amazing lookbook launch at Tribeca Grand Monday night, with amazing mojitos, a live band, and film in tow.

Lookbooks of Ann Yee's Fall 2010 collection were being passed out amongst the divine guests in attendance, complementing the film and suiting the decor.

For Ann's Fall bevy, refreshing color-blocked drapes, back and shoulder-zippered blouses and an abundance of silk and wool filled the pages that created a story for girls who know their fashion and like to experiment with it. Ann herself has already been experimenting with her own style, by way of delicate, minute details that reminded us of an eager design student's outburst of expression.

Angular sleeves, tiered yokes, side panels and sloppy draped pockets were all tied together through perfected trousers, roused skirts and black leggings.

In addition, the designer is sweet as blueberry pie - which draws even more attraction to such an enticing and creative bevy.
